

COURSE ANNOUNCEMENT

Developing and Managing Volunteer Resources

October 22, 2009
8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

What: The one day FEMA course is intended to introduce the concepts of working with volunteers. The emphasis is developing an understanding of the skills and tools required in managing a diverse workforce which is volunteer in nature. Guest lecturers will be invited to participate to demonstrate the levels of volunteer coordination that may be necessary during disaster response and recovery.

Where: Brighton Police Department
4301 E. Bromley Lane
Brighton CO 80601
Map of location and directions provided upon registration.

Register: www.dola.colorado.gov/dem/training/train.htm
Training 75 EZ Form. This course is first come, first served.

Target Audience: Emergency Management and Volunteer Management Professionals

For more information contact: Rebecca Martinez, Emergency Manager, Brighton
Office: 303-655-2316 rmartinez@brightonco.gov
OR
Robyn Knappe, State Training Officer
Office: robyn.knappe@state.co.us or 720-852-6617

Hosted by Colorado Division of Emergency Management (CDEM) in partnership with the City of Brighton