WITHDRAWAL

Now comes Petitioner by William A. McLain, P.C., its attorney, and states as follows:

1. After business hours on June 20, 2007, counsel for Petitioner received an email with the attached Respondent's Emergency Motion To Conduct Discovery Pursuant To BAA Rule 11 (d) and C.R.C.P. Rule 26. In the Motion, Respondent requested that Petitioner enter an order compelling the immediate disclosure of the written report of Witness Ronald Hambrick. Respondent's counsel had been informed prior to June 20, 2007, that there was no such report.

2. The following day, June 21, 2007, and prior to Petitioner having an opportunity to respond to the Motion, Petitioner received the Board of Assessment Appeals Order On Motion To Conduct Discovery Pursuant to BAA Rule 11 (d) & C.R.C.P. Rule 26. In the Order, the BAA ordered Petitioner to provide the documentation requested in Respondent's Motion for Discovery on or before June 22, 2007, that is, a written report of Ronald Hambrick stating Petitioner's alternate valuation of the subject property.

3. Since there is no such written report, it would be impossible for Petitioner to comply with the Board's Order in the one day given to do so.

4. Pursuant to case law, Petitioner is not obligated to provide an alternative value for the subject property, nor has such a written report been necessary under prior BAA policy and procedure.

5. In Board of Assessment Appeals v. Sampson, 105 P.3d 198 (Colo. 2005), the Colorado Supreme Court stated that the taxpayer in a BAA case has the burden of proving that an assessment is incorrect and that relief is available regardless of whether the taxpayer provides an alternative value.

6. BAA Rule 14 (b), provides, in part, that: "Every party to the proceeding shall have the right to present his case or defense by oral and documentary evidence." It is Petitioner's understanding that the BAA has routinely allowed expert and other witnesses to testify without the strict compliance with the provisions of C.R.C.P., Rule 26 (a) (1) & (2). Petitioner was unaware that the BAA had changed its long-standing policy in this regard.

7. Since Petitioner believes that it has been unfairly prejudiced by the BAA's change of its long-standing policy with regard to written reports and by the BAA's Order giving Petitioner only one day to comply, Petitioner has chosen to withdraw its appeal.
